

Advances in technology and development of both vehicles and tyres have resulted in Yokohama's tyre for the serious circuit racer and tarmac rally specialist alike.

The entire tread surface of the ADVAN A048 is one continuous block design. This offers far greater rigidity, and results in extra cornering, braking and acceleration potential. The tread surface also provides greater straight line stability and increased levels of steering torque, delivering higher confidence back to the driver. The round casing tread design emulates the latest slick tyre technology, ensuring maximum change of direction and sure footed handling. The compound was developed for higher grip levels in extreme conditions.

Control Tyre for: Australian V8 Utes, Aussie Racing Cars
